

Asbestos, Environmental & Mass Tort News – Kerri H. Grant joins Gnarus as Principal

Boutique consulting firm, Gnarus Advisors LLC expanded its practice as Kerri H. Grant, an experienced consultant focusing on the modeling and analysis of matters related to a range of environmental, mass tort, and insurance coverage issues joined the firm. Ms. Grant has over a decade of experience aiding in the provision of expert testimony and settlement support in environmental, product liability and insurance recovery litigation. She also has extensive consulting expertise advising companies on appropriate forecasting and disclosure for environmental liabilities. Ms. Grant specializes in the development of detailed probabilistic, environmental damage, litigation risk, and insurance allocation models.

Ms. Grant holds a M.S. in environmental assessment and evaluation from the London School of Economics and a B.S.E. in civil and environmental engineering from Princeton University. Prior to joining Gnarus, Ms. Grant worked in the environment and insurance claims group at LECG.

“I am excited to be part of Gnarus’ growing practice. I’m eager to work with Steve and Dade, talented leaders in the industry, and look forward to helping enhance the firm’s practice in the environmental, mass tort and insurance coverage arenas. I know I can help Gnarus continue to provide effective solutions to complicated issues,” said Ms. Grant.

Gnarus Advisors LLC is a boutique consulting firm providing advisory, risk control and expert testimony services to businesses, government agencies and law firms facing complex challenges. We have worked with businesses large and small, international and domestic, public and private, as well as common interest groups, law firms and other advisors for over two decades.
